Presenting a project update

1 Vocabulary in context

A) ♪ Listen to these extracts from a presentation. What's the general topic of the presentation?

1 Hello, everybody. The staging build won't load. I'm just waiting for it to refresh. Oh, it must be refreshing. It shouldn't take long. There. OK. Can you all see the screen? Let's see. I could make the PR a little bigger. Would somebody open the ticket, please? Thanks. There should be a project brief in the chat, too. All right, let's get started.

2 So, today I want to look at the authentication update. In particular, I'll be talking about what's working, what's still blocked, and what we need to finish before release. I'll allow time for questions and comments at the end. So, I'd like to begin by showing you the changes we made to the login flow. We already have the new validation and error states in staging.

3 As you'll see on the slide, the new flow is working in most cases, but we still have an issue with token refresh after a long session. We've also added tests for the main login states. So, let's move on and look at the blocker we found yesterday in more detail.

4 As you can see, the issue seems to happen only when the refresh token expires. It might be related to the new session handling, and we should have a fix ready by tomorrow. Anyway, that's all I have time for. So, I'd better stop there. Does anyone have any questions or comments?

5 If you're reviewing the change later, you might want to check out the latest comments in the PR. I'll just conclude by saying thank you for listening. And now I'll turn it over to Camila, who's going to give you an update on the frontend changes.
